

Happy Chinese New Year & Happy Valentine's Day

This free, fun event provides an opportunity for non-native speakers to practice speaking in English and to meet ESOL students and faculty. Everyone is welcome! join us!

Register Here

Jungho is excited to be in the U.S. for the first time.

Jungho thinks American women are a bit too fresh!

Jungho thinks he needs ESOL classes!

The semester has already started,
but we are still accepting new students!

- 12-week classes start on February 15.
- 8-week classes start on March 22.

Visit our website for more information

Lorena Guzman
ESOL student

When we talk about love, we think of scenes from movies or songs. The type of love which most think of around Valentine's Day is romantic love, but there are many types of love: parental, fraternal, friendship, and others. We have heard that love moves the world, and in many cases it is true. For that reason, let's choose love. Love is a decision, a way to live life and love everyone around us. Happy Valentine's Day!

Dan Hu
ESOL Student

I have been in the USA for more than four years, but each year, when it's nearly Chinese New Year, I get homesick. What I miss most is:

1- The "Big Clean":

The whole family collaborates to clean the house, sweeping all the dirty things out to welcome the new year.

2- Family Reunions:

Families get together to celebrate, visit relatives, eat food, and exchange lucky red envelopes, which have money in them!

3- The Reunion Dinner:

We prepare food for our ancestors. We leave bowls and chairs for them, and we believe that they will join us at the table.

I miss these traditions, and I always imagine and hope my kids can experience them. For now, I teach them to say Happy New

President's Day

President's Day is now celebrated on February 15. We used to celebrate George Washington's birthday on February, 22. We also celebrated Abraham Lincoln's birthday on February 12. Now, we just celebrate our most famous president's birthdays on the third Monday of February. We don't get the day off from school at ACC, but it is a good day if you want to buy something on sale because most retail stores use the holiday to offer goods at a discount.

Encourage your friends to subscribe!

Share this link with friends

Follow ESOL on Social Media

