SPECIAL THANKSGIVING ISSUE OF THE STUDENT NEWS AND INFORMATION BULLETIN

thanksgiving greetings from ACC president, Dr. Groves

DEAR STUDENTS:

As the Thanksgiving Holiday season approaches, I wish you a happy time with you families and friends. And let me thank you all for taking the care to make this a fruitful and exciting year for Austin Community College.

Thanksgiving is a wholly American holiday. The community college is a wholly American idea for education. Both are the responses to people's longings and needs for opportunity and their searches for a better life.

But don't spend your holidays pondering such philosophies. Be thankful and enjoy!

RIDGEVIEW CAMPUS

MELROSE/GILLETT-KARAM PRODUCTIONS

Mrs. Ruby Melrose and Ms. Rosemary Gillett-Karam have again swung their holidays organization into gear and are coordinating a THANKSGIVING luncheon:

NOVEMBER 21, 12:30 p.m.

Ridgeview lounge

Everyone is invited to share the luncheon. MELROSE/GILLETT-KARAM PRODUCTIONS will supply the turkey things.

YOU should supply something for others to share.

Jon Armendariz and his guitar promise special and joyful musical refreshment.

Bring a serving dish that someone else might enjoy sharing.

RIO GRANDE CAMPUS

RIO GRANDE CAMPUS: LUNCH AND CONCERT ANTHROPOLOGY CLASS' THANKSGIVING GIFT

BILL Brock's 35 anthropology students will host an International Thanksgiving lunch as a class project. They have studied the customs and traditions of other countries. Now they share their work with us in the form of food.

30 different dishes, at least tastes of them, are the class gift to ACC. Their tables will open in the RGC lounge on Tuesday at 11:30 a.m., and they invite us to taste 3 varieties, AS LONG AS SUPPLIES LAST.

BILL OLIVER AND HIS BAND will play a concert in the RGC theatre-auditorium beginning at 12:30, immediately after the luncheon.

These NO CHARGE programs are co-sponsored by the RGC student activities committee.
