

Peace and Conflict Studies Program presents:

CINEMA OF CONFLICT & Transformation film series

OCTOBER 11

Call Me Kuchu

6 p.m. • ACC Eastview Campus
Multipurpose Room, 8500

NOVEMBER 15

Granito: How to Nail a Dictator

6 p.m. • ACC Eastview Campus
Multipurpose Room, 8500

APRIL 3

The Gatekeepers

6 p.m. • UT Campus, CLA building,
Glickman Conference Center

Cosponsored by: Schusterman Center for Jewish Studies at UT and Austin Jewish Film Festival

APRIL 11

5 Broken Cameras

6 p.m. • ACC Eastview Campus
Multipurpose Room, 8500

ACC's Program in Peace & Conflict Studies is proud to present a year-long screening series of highly acclaimed, award-winning films which put a spotlight on global conflict, and on the individual and structural struggles around those conflicts.

Join students, educators and film enthusiasts to watch and discuss these important works that document both horror and hope. Discussions will follow each screening.

There is great power in not just knowing,
but in knowing and speaking collectively.

For more information austincc.edu/peace

Special thanks to

